Queen Elizabeth	46.35	Royal Mail ship	1939	85000	Photographed with the "Queen Mary" and the "Normandie". "Queen Elizabeth" left her fitting out basin at Messrs John Brown's Clydebank yard for a dash across the Atlantic which will long live in Mercantile history. The £6,000,000 vessel of 85,000 tons was then the largest ship afloat. Painted a dull grey, with all her portholes and painted the same colour the QE braved the dangers of the Atlantic and successfully reached safety in New York Harbour during a trip when no German submarine or hostile craft was sighted.
